Court Talks Of County Road Paving

A question of Randall County entering into business against private enterprise was raised Monday afternoon by Commissioner B. R. Jones at Commissioners Court.

Jones raised the question when bids for a seal coat were presented to the court. He said he did not want the county to get into the paving business in competition with private enterprise.

Commissioner Bill Butler said he thought the buying of road maintenance equipment was not interfering with private businesses.

"I can't see we would be in competition with private enterprise when the county is doing it," Clarence Beckman said.

Judge Wayland Angel said he did not think the county buying the equipment would hinder private enterprise when the machinery is used only on county maintained roads.

The court voted unanimously to accept the low bid of $9,990 from Tom W. Carpenter Company of Amarillo for a seal coat.

"I'll vote to get the machine, but if I can get the road work in my precinct done for less

City Cash Goes Down Oily Drain

Someone's goofin' up the Canyon sewer plant.

And Dewey Bryant, city manager is asking for help to stop the problem.

"Someone is discharging oil in the sewer system, which causes severe damage to the sewer plant," Bryant pointed out.

He said the oil kills all bacteria, which is the main ingredient in the plant.

"Immediate damage to the plant costs approximately $150, that is to replace the bacteria. But the oil has lasting effect on the plant so cost can go higher," Bryant said.

So, if you are adding oil to the sewer system, please stop: it is costing the city money to get the oil through the plant.

Cars Leave Today On Second Journey

Word is spreading about the 75th Diamond Jubilee celebration of Randall County and Canyon.

Caravans to Panhandle towns are telling folks about the three-day festivities in Canyon July 30-August 1.

The first caravan loaded with enthusiastic Canyon folks left Monday for towns south of here. The second goodwill caravan will leave this morning, July 9, at 9:30 o'clock from the north side of the square.

Approximately 15 cars are expected to be in the group with more than 45 persons visiting Dimmitt, Friona and Hereford.

"We had a good crowd go with us Monday to Happy, Tulia, Silverton, Floydada, Lockney and Plainview," said Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

The final caravan will be Monday, July 13, with local persons visiting towns in the northern Panhandle.

Meanwhile anniversary activities are being conducted in Canyon with pioneers receiving special invitations to the three-day celebration, July 30-August 1. Mrs. Clyde Warwick and Mrs. R. A. Neblett are in charge of the invitations. "Our bonnets are gone, but we still have plenty of top hats, derbies, straw hats and neckties for sale at the Chamber of Commerce office," Black noted.

The anniversary sale will help defer expenses for the barbecue which is expected to be attended by some 10,000 pioneers and residents of the Texas Plains.

"Whiskered gentlemen typical of the early 1900's are a common sight on the streets of Canyon these days," said a Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce spokesman. The Jaycees are sponsoring a 'beard contest' with cash prizes and trophies going to the winners.

A "hoosegow" for unbearded citizens who haven't bought a shaving permit will be in effect beginning next week. Shaving permits are selling for $1.00 from any Jaycee member with the beard contest being judged at 2 o'clock August 1.

John Tower, senator, will be principal speaker for the anniversary celebration. Tower will speak at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 1, and then will mount a horse to ride at the head of the Diamond Jubilee Parade which begins at 4 o'clock. Numerous other government officials and outstanding pioneers of the area are expected for the three-day celebration.

Other pre-celebration events are being planned by committee members with the "Progress of the West" parade drawing entrants from numerous local merchants, clubs, and other Antique cars, wagons, carriages, and other parade entries will progress down Fourth Avenue beginning at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 1. Additional parade entries are expected and all clubs, merchants and individuals planning to participate should make arrangements with Dr. Dudley Moore, parade marshal.

A barbecue feast is slated to follow the parade August 1. The free supper will be served on the courthouse lawn to an estimated 10,000 persons.

Some 188 beeves have been donated for the big feed, with relishes and trimmings also being donated. Members of the Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes will have crews tending the cooking through the night before

Study? Oh Yes, Study!

"Finals Friday, and who wants to study?" seems to be the main thought in the minds of Woody Gilliland and Lee Ruth Wiggins, West Texas State University students. The first summer school semester ends tomorrow, with final exams scheduled at regular class hours. Registration for the second summer semester is Tuesday, July 14, in the Student Union Building.

Who Needs A Shave?

Kerry McDowell, shine boy at the Buffalo Barber Shop, gets in on the beard growing contest being held during Randall County's 75th Anniversary celebration. Kerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDowell of Canyon.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

A lot of Canyon people have the appearance these days of sheep peeping through brush piles. There are some plain and fancy beards being grown around town.

Canyon Jaycees are offering a $50 prize for the best beard in town by Diamond Jubilee time the latter part of this month. We think Nick Dodson is ahead so far. Nick looks like something off a Smith Brothers Cough Drop ad.

Roy Fortune has the appearance of a movie version of the old time plug ugly strike breaker. Boy does he look tough!

Dan Tarpley's mustache gives him a pitiful look. Dan's lip whiskers have a drooping appearance. Dan, who normally has a cheerful and often gay personality, now stands on the street corners just looking pitiful.

Never saw anyone's appearance changed more by a few whiskers. Everytime we see him we have the feeling that he has a tale of woe to tell.

We bought a shaving permit. It was the best dollar we ever invested.

Spraying For Insects Begins

City spraying for insects began last week, according to Dewey Bryant, city manager.

"We will fog the town once a week for five or six weeks," Bryant said. "We will be spraying at night if it is too windy to work during the day."

The city's street department is using specially-equipped spray trucks in the campaign against mosquitoes, flies and other pests.

Guests in the J. D. Burkett home recently have been her sister, Mrs. Margaret Stork of Lubbock, and Mrs. Burkett's niece, Mrs. Monty Welch and family, from Melrose, New Mexico.

The UN is pulling out of the Congo after some three years of "peace keeping." The "emerging nation" is now nothing more than a bunch of warring savage tribes.

According to news reports, many Congolese have reverted to cannibalism and are eating each other.

Yet, this "emerging nation" will have the same vote in the general assembly of the United Nations as the United States.

The Congo was a typical UN operation—an unmitigated farce.

We appreciate the stand of William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, on attempts to unionize the teaching profession.

Here's what Carr had to say: "Organized labor has policies on a wide variety of economic and social issues, and it advances those policies by definite political commitments. The basic functions of the teacher and of the public schools are impaired by such alliances."

the third round Tuesday, July 14.

Six teams have been competing since the season opened June 8. Teams include Western Auto, KCAN Radio, Bellah's, Borden's, First National Bank and Cooper's.

First National defeated Bellah's 11-9 in early action June 18, while Borden's defeated Western Auto 10-4.

KCAN, 13 - First National Bank, 9 was the game score in the first game June 22. Western Auto held Bellah's scoreless, 21-0, in the second game.

Borden's defeated Cooper's 7-3 in June 23rd action. Results for games played June 25 were KCAN over Western Auto, 4-1 and Borden's over Bellah's 10-3.

Bellah's fell to KCAN 10-7 in the first game on June 29, while First National stopped Cooper's 15-5.

Additional game results will be listed in next week's paper.

A tip of our hat to Congressman Walter Rogers for the position he took on the Civil Rights Bill. His position during the presidential campaign ahead will tell us more about where the congressman stands than anything he could say at this time.

If he campaigns for the perpetrators of the Civil Rights Bill then all will know that his position against it was mere Rogerian demagoguery.

Posse Plans Rodeo For Anniversary

A western rodeo was planned at Tuesday night's meeting of the Randall County Sheriff's Possee.

The rodeo will be staged at the Sheriff's Possee Arena, east of Canyon, during July 30-August 1, as an integral event of the 75th anniversary celebration.

Rodeo admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children with events in bull dogging, saddle bronc, bare back bronc, bull riding, calf roping, barrel racing, and calf scrambling as featured attractions.

The three-night rodeo will begin at 8:00 p.m. each evening to be followed by a western dance at the National Guard Armory after each performance.

A television give-away will be sponsored by the Sheriff's Possee with tickets on sale through any posse member at $1.00. Junior Sanford, chairman, said that the television will be presented Saturday, August 1.

Approximately 20 posse members were present for Tuesday's meeting at their new headquarters building, the recently purchased Girl Scout House, which is located at the Sheriff's Possee Arena.

"But Ann, the kitchen can't be flooded."

Little did I know that the kitchen could be flooded, and was put' near floating away.

The problem began rather simply last week when the air conditioner went out. We sweated through a couple of days of no cool air, but soon learned we must have that breeze, no matter how slight.

So another one was installed, and being typical females we "thought" we would put it in a better location.

The bedroom window was just the place for the noisemaker, even though the living room was the main attraction for us.

Together we decided that the west window, which is also the bedroom window, would be logical (and we use that term loosely).

So together we suffered another three days, until we realized that the air was bouncing off the opposite wall and keeping our closets quite comfortable, but doing very little for the living room.

Presley Kennamer was called again, and the air conditioner moved. Of course, in the move there were several adjustments which we thought should be made, and Pres made those too.

Then, the fatal phone call came Tuesday at noon.

She must be kidding, an air conditioner just doesn't throw water all over the kitchen, especially in bucket loads.

But little did I know...it can. Poor Pres made another trip to the house...only after I had been satisfied the air conditioner was faulty.

The test came immediately after the phone call. I rushed home knowing I would find nothing major.

Ann smiled that wise smile and went outside to turn on the water, while I stood in front of the machine to see from where the small stream of liquid was coming.

I yelled, I'm ready.

She yelled, Okay.

I yelled, Help.

She laughed.

Yes, a kitchen can be flooded. Yes, an air conditioner can throw bucketfuls of water straight out. Yes, I changed clothes before returning to work.

Well, it was just another day in the lives of single girls. More do we learn the simple tasks men contribute to a smooth running household.

Another caravan leaves today, Thursday, for area towns to tell neighboring communities about the 75th anniversary of Randall County and Canyon.

Businessmen, students, housewives, well, just name it, they are needed to make the caravan long and impressive.

The caravan leaves at 9:30 a.m. from the north side of the square, the returns in the afternoon.

The next and final caravan will leave Canyon Monday, July 13.

Anyone who can get off for the day and enjoys meetings some folks from other towns, should meet in front of the Chamber of Commerce office and be on their way.

The more people who know about the three-day celebration in Canyon July 30-August 1, means more people to enjoy the rodeo, barbecue, parade, and good community fellowship.

Help make the celebration a success...and enjoy yourself.

Tot Injured In Bicycle Incident Here

Donna King, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim King of Canyon, lost two toes on her right foot in a bicycle accident late Tuesday afternoon.

Donna and her older sister, Sue Ann, 11, had spent the afternoon swimming at the city pool. The two girls had started home about 5:20 p.m. with Sue Ann pumping the bicycle and Donna riding the back fender.

The accident occurred near the ball park concession stand as Donna's foot became entangled in the chain of the bike.

She was taken to Neblett Hospital and remained overnight where her condition was listed as satisfactory.

One Weekend Traffic Death

One man died on Randall County highways during the July 4th weekend.

Miguel L. Garza, Tulia farm laborer, was pronounced dead on arrival at Northwest Texas Hospital Sunday, according to investigating highway patrolman James Cadenhead.

According to Cadenhead, Garza was returning to Tulia and was about two miles south of Amarillo when he stopped his car and got out. He was struck by a car driven by Harry Moreau of Amarillo, who was enroute to Buffalo Lake.

His death was ruled accidental and was caused by internal injuries, according to justice of the peace W. W. Hancock. Garza was born September 1938 in Geronimo. He is survived by his wife.

Visiting with the Tom Gooch family for the past several weeks have been their grandchildren, Linda and Bill Peggaram, from West Cliff, Colorado.

MRS. LONNIE PETERS helps her oldest son, Charles, get a good aim at the target during free afternoon hours. Mrs. Peters, mother of three, likes the "wide open spaces of Texas" and likes for her family to participate in family sports such as the bowhunters club, fisherman's outing, and outdoor athletics. This week she shares a Petal Coffee Cake recipe which is a favorite of the Peters family.

Mrs. Lonnie Peters Gives Petal Coffee Cake Recipe

A native of Massachusetts, Mrs. Lonnie Peters shares her family's favorite recipe for Petal Coffee Cake with our readers this week.

The former Miss Betty Barstow was the oldest child of Mrs. Joseph Bussolari of Holbrook, Massachusetts. Her parents still live in the "cool north", as do Mrs. Peters' immediate relatives including two sisters and a brother.

"My first trip to Texas was 10 days after our marriage," comments Mrs. Peters "and when the sun started coming up over the flat plains of Oklahoma I was ready to turn back."

"Now, after getting accustomed to the climate, I wouldn't trade it," she said. "The sky looks so much larger here on the Texas Plains."

Her husband, Lonnie, was raised at Matador, but completed his high school education in Holbrook, Massachusetts. The couple was married in September, 1955.

Their first Texas home was at Wichita Falls where he received his bachelor's degree from Midwestern University. Peters became affiliated with the Park and Wildlife Department in 1960 and was transferred to Canyon in November, 1961 as a fisheries biologist serving 27 counties of the Golden Spread.

"Lonnie sometimes spends two or three days on a research project to lakes and stock ponds to test the percentage of game fish as compared with rough fish," says Mrs. Peters. "He doesn't help with stocking the lakes, but often recommends the best species for that particular situation."

"He spends most of the summer months on the road and at the lab, then in the winter time I sometimes help him with office reports and typing," she said. The lab is located east on the Palo Duro Highway, near Pioneer Estates, and Peters and his co-workers maintain fish for observation in vats at the lab.

"Our entire family likes to fish," says Mrs. Peters noting that excess fish, caught during research, are given to charities through the local game wardens.

A 'sport family' the Peters are currently participating in the Palo Duro Bowhunters Club and are teaching their youngsters the sport. They plan a summer outing in Colorado this year where they will hunt deer and wild animals with the bow and arrow, plus a few evenings with the fishing pole.

They have three children including Charles, 7, who is a second grade student at Canyon Elementary School; Jeffrey, 5, and Sandra, 3.

Members of the First Presbyterian Church, the Peters are skippers of the Prairie Clippers Mariner Ship. Among other activities they are members of the Randall County Sportsmen Club.

Along with outdoor activities, Mrs. Peters enjoys as her hobbies sewing, reading, cooking and "I even like to iron" she said.

Her recipe follows:

PETAL COFFEE CAKE

1 cup buttermilk
1/3 cup butter
2 1/2 tsp. salt
3 Tbsp. sugar
1 beaten egg
1 pkg. dry yeast
1 cup warm water
5 3/4 cup flour
1/4 tsp. soda

Sift buttermilk, add butter, salt and sugar. Stir until melted then cool to lukewarm. Add beaten egg to milk mixture.

Dissolve 1 pkg. yeast in warm, not hot, water. Add to milk mixture.

Sift flour and soda. Add three cups of flour to the liquid and stir well. Gradually add remainder of flour, knead for 5 minutes. Set in greased bowl and cover, allowing to rise for 1 hour. Punch down and let dough rest for 15 minutes.

Place a 15 inch sheet of aluminum foil, dull-side up, on a baking sheet. Grease. Turn up edges to form a 12 inch round pan.

Roll dough on floured board to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut into strips, 1/2 inch wide, 6 inches long. Dip each strip into about 1/2 cup melted butter.

Then dip strip into the following mixture:

3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon

Wind first strip into a coil in center of pan. Continue making strips, coating them with sugar mixture and place close together to make a round cake.

Cover and let rise 1 1/2 hours. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Cool slightly then pour sugar icing over top.

Sugar icing includes blend of 1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar, and 1-2 tsp. milk.

"This is a coffee cake for nibblers, who will break off a petal and return for more," says Mrs. Peters.

WT Professor Pens Umbarger History

"How was it that a community like Umbarger could establish itself and remain intact for over half a century?"

This was the question asked and answered by Hubert Oppe, assistant professor of sociology at West Texas State University in his recently published monograph, UMBARGER - ITS HISTORY AND PEOPLE.

Oppe was asked to give the commencement address at Umbarger High School and became intrigued by the uniqueness of the town.

He explained that it is unusual to find an almost entire Catholic community in an area where Catholics are very much in the minority.

Oppe also pointed out that Umbarger "consists almost entirely of Catholic Germans born either in the old country or one or two generations removed."

In writing his history, Oppe ran into many problems. The main one, he said, was the lack of factual data available. Most of the information Oppe obtained from interviews with some of the old timers of the town, the children of the pioneers.

Oppe's manuscript not only gives the statistics of the founding of the town, but also tries to give an inside look at the people who were its founding fathers.

"The patterns of their lives reveal the forces at work, the motivation of their existence, and the sources of energy which kept them going in the face of all challenges with which man and nature confronted them."

These short biographies of the early pioneers and their families show how such a community as Umbarger could not only come into being but could survive as long as it has.

The book was first released Friday in a limited edition. Copies are now available in Canyon at Buffalo Book Store, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and Stevenson Pontiac and at Clarence Kern's Store in Umbarger.

HUBERT OPPE, West Texas State University assistant professor of sociology is shown with his recently published book, "Umbarger-Its History and People." The book was written this spring after Oppe became interested in the community.

Queen Voting Ends July 18

Voting will end Saturday, July 18, for a Babe Ruth League baseball queen.

Voting is done at stations located in Canyon, Happy and Amarillo. Separate containers for each queen candidate are located at the stations, and each penny placed in a container counts as one vote for that candidate.

The candidate receiving the most votes will be announced after July 18. Money received during the voting will go toward the support of the Babe Ruth League.

Queen nominees and the teams they represent are Katy Upshaw, Giants; Cathy Hufnagle, Pirates; Lissa Garner, Fanin; Vicki Daniel, Cardinals; Katy Nancy Meyer, White Sox, and Janie McManigal, Happy.

Two Taken To Hospital

Two persons were rushed to Northwest Texas Hospital early Tuesday morning following a two car accident in north Randall County.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Farm Road 1151 and the Palisades Road.

A car driven by Marvin Stephenson, 42, of Washburn and a vehicle driven by Billy Jordan, 33, of Palisades collided at the intersection.

Stephenson was traveling west on Farm Road 1151 and Jordan was driving north on the Palisades road.

Mrs. Ruth Stephenson, 35, was taken to the hospital and had stitches taken in her head from cuts received in the crash.

Bruce Kimberly, 10, and a passenger in the Jordancar, had stitches taken in his forehead.

Highway Patrolman James Cadenhead investigated the accident.

Dry Weather Is Problem

Dry weather in Randall County is causing concern with cattle and feed to area farmers and ranchers.

Lack of water to range land is causing a slow growth of grass for cattle.

Irrigated grainsorghum, mainly crop in the county at the present time, is in good condition according to county agent John Brazzil.

"Stands of the sorghum planted in May are generally good. They stand about 12 to 18 inches high," Brazzil said.

Most of the area farmers are behind on their irrigation schedule because of the lack of rain.

Most farmers planted the dryland sorghum in late-June following a two-inch rain. Most of the grain that is planted is up.

"The stands are poor and some acres have not been planted," Brazzil explained.

As temperatures soar in the high 90's, Randall County farmers and ranchers look for rain to ease the problems of the drought.

Canyon Man On Byrd's South Pole Expedition

BY LYNZA CARADINE

From the top of the world to the top of a space laboratory...

This is the story of Joe Hill, Jr.

Born here in Canyon in 1913, Hill is the son of Dr. J. A. Hill, former president of West Texas State College.

At the age of 20, he joined Admiral Richard E. Byrd on a 13,000 mile journey to explore the Antarctica; he was the youngest member of the expedition and served as the Admiral's aide.

Hill attended the Demonstration School, a high school once held at WT and completed his first year of college here. He later went to the University of Texas to get his degree in mechanical engineering.

"The Boy Scout movement was just getting underway in Canyon when I was just about scouting age," Joe recalls.

"A young college student, C. W. West, was the scoutmaster of my troop. It was due to his efforts, guidance and patience that we established quite a record among the scout troops."

"Our troop had seven of the first scouts obtain the Eagle Rank in the shortest time possible; Winston Savage, Louis Shirley, Edwin Reed, Earl Cobb, Russell Bishop, Elmer Laxton, (and Hill)."

In 1929, according to Hill, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd lectured in Amarillo on his first Antarctica expedition. Several Canyon scouts attended the lecture.

"The lecture kindled in me the desire to go to the Antarctica with him because he said he was going again," Hill said.

"After the lecture, I went up to Admiral Byrd and told him I was interested in going on the expedition. He said, 'Okay, drop me a letter and you will be considered.'"

Hill did write Admiral Byrd, supporting his letter with recommendations. Two years later, "After the incident had almost been forgotten," Hill said, he was between semesters at the University of Texas when he received a post card from the personnel director of the expedition.

"He wanted me to come to Boston for a physical examination. It was during the depression; I got a job chauffeuring the speech professor's car to Boston. I was accepted on the expedition as the youngest member mainly because of my boy scout work."

The expedition began September, 1933, and continued through May, 1935. Hill became a part of the group which was absent from the United States 21 months. Fourteen of these months were spent on the ice at Little America.

"We sailed from Boston; there were two ships, the Jacob Ruppert and the Bear of Oakland. The Ruppert was a World War II cargo vessel, steam driven and modified for special ice work. The Bear was a wooden ship with auxiliary steam."

"My primary job on the exploration was as tractor driver and mechanic. However, on the trip down and back I served at various times as the Admiral's aide."

"On both the Ruppert and Bear, I served as second cook, and finally worked as a machinist on the Bear."

"Fifty-six men were included in the expedition. The average age of the group was about 36 years; for me, as a 20-year old kid, this was, of course, a major adventure."

The expedition landed at Little America in February, 1934, where the men lived 14 months, wintered on the ice doing various types of research and exploration.

Joe Hill, relaxed and steadily puffing his pipe, paused at this point to relate his personal reactions to landing and living in the coldest place in the world, Little America.

"The thrill of seeing a place no other human being had seen before...this was the most beautiful place in the world!"

"The atmosphere was extremely harsh. There were the uncertainties of travel, living conditions on ice, navigations through the crevice areas of the ice."

"The loneliness of being unable to receive mail."

"Many people will remember General Foods' weekly broadcasts from Little America."

"The only mammals there were seals. But we did see birds, and penguins. The only vegetation was the moss and lichens which grew on rocks sticking through the snow."

"Besides the occasional rocks, or peaks, the rest of the land was solid ice."

"Colors were beautiful and delicate such as the reflections of ice crystals during sunrises or sunsets. The sunsets were kin to West Texas sunsets."

"Comradeship between the men and their basic characters comes out during stress. Morale there was high. The Admiral planned rigorous daily duty; his secret for morale was to keep the objective in view and keep the men busy obtaining that objective. We felt the thrills of accomplishment."

"I witnessed the amazing ability of the human physical and mental makeup to be able to adjust itself to survive in any extreme. We took sponge baths in the lee (downwind side) of tractors when the temperature was ten degrees below zero, this, of course, in the sunshine."

"There were long winter nights and long summer days, and 600 times as many stars can be seen there. Night is not actually dark, it is starlight dark, and when the moon appears it is very bright."

"Occasionally we experienced a condition called white-out, an overcast condition when a person felt as if he were suspended in a bowl of milk."

"Under those conditions travel was impossible, because we were unable to see and could have lost a tractor or dog team in one of the crevices. Because of Admiral Byrd's tremendous courage and leadership, we never lost a man during the entire expedition."

"On the Antarctica," Joe added, "there is no sickness, no germs."

Entertainment for the men in that "distant world" was reading, writing, tending to the usual camp duties, "And," Joe laughed, "we saw movies; I saw one movie seven times."

Clothing included parkas, fur trousers and fur mittens, all transported from the United States. "We adapted our own methods of wearing the clothing, taking the lead from the Eskimos' experiences with furs."

"Hands and feet were our biggest problems; as a tractor mechanic, I had to handle tools and had to wear silk gloves to keep my hands from freezing to the tools."

"We always travelled with a buddy, because we couldn't tell if our faces were freezing. If there was no feeling we would warn each other if the white blot, the sign of freezing, began to appear."

Transportation at Little America was by dog sleds, tractors, airplanes and skis. Almost all food was powdered. Eggs were packed in salt in 55-gallon kegs. The men ate seal meat, and some beef from New Zealand.

The expedition ended in 1935. One of Joe's most vivid memories of the return home was the brief stop in New Zealand. "The minute we hit New Zealand, none of us could get enough fresh vegetables to eat," he said. "I ate so many tomatoes that I broke out in a rash!"

Joe Hill, in the years following expedition, has used his mechanical knowledge in other ways. He worked for Douglas Aircraft, on his return to the U.S., and later became Chief engineer at Janitrol, the aerodivision of Midland-Ross Corporation.

Hill is now manager of the Space Laboratory for Garrett Corporation in Rolling Hills Estates, California.

"At the laboratory, we do all the testing for Mercury, Gemini and Apollo space crafts," Joe explained.

Joe and his wife, Wilma Jo, "the girl he left at home", were married the August after the expedition returned in May, 1935. The Hills have three children. Joe is in medical school at the University of Florida in Miami. Sue Ann is married to the assistant director of Alumni Relations at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

Hill's youngest son, Bruce, will be ten years old in June.

Joe's father, Dr. Hill, recalls his own experience resulting from Joe's time on the expedition. While in San Marcos for a board of regents and college presidents meeting (and while Joe was at the Antarctica), Dr. Hill had gone to a drug store.

"There I was approached by a young boy; someone had told the boy that I was Joe's father."

"The boy said 'Sir, is it true you have a son at the South Pole?' To which I replied, yes."

"The boy said very seriously and deliberately 'Well, when you are dead, buried, and forgotten for 200 years, your son will still be remembered!'"

Dr. Hill chuckled, "That boy really put me in my place!"

City Dads Award Bids

City commissioners awarded a water and sewer improvement bid Monday night to H.B. Jordan and Company of Amarillo.

Jordan Company entered a low bid of $16,825.88 for furnishing and installing water and sewer improvements within the city.

Dewey Bryant, city manager said cost for the improvements would be carried by developers of the area and not the city.

However, bids had to meet city specifications.

In other action Monday, city dads passed a city ordinance to close 2nd and 3rd Streets from the railroad north to U. S. Highway 60.

The intersections on Second

Avenue will be open for traffic, but the streets running north and south will be closed.

Commissioners also voted to extend water service to A.L. Triplett outside the east city limits.

Triplett requested water service east of town on the Hereford Highway.

Proposed trash ordinance was discussed, but no action was taken. Bryant said action on the ordinance would be taken later this month on in early August.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Hannah were in Canyon Tuesday to visit with their son, Wylie Hannah, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Hannah live at Vernon.

Visiting this month with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hammond of Canyon is Miss Gloria De-Abbott of Espanola, New Mexico.

Natalia Acosta.
I am a Latin American and I am proud to live in America because I have my freedom. And all the rights and conveniences of this beautiful country without having to fight for it. Peace is my goal and my idea of truly happiness and for all that makes me a very proud American. I will do anything and everything I can for my country and not expect for my country to do everything for me.

Peace, happiness and freedom is mine and America has given me this.

Independence Day Theme by Rena Gayle Hillier.

I think the most important thing on Independence Day is when Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and Philip Livingston wrote the Declaration of Independence. They read the Declaration of Independence before the delegates. The Declaration of Independence was written on July fourth, 1776. The signing of the Declaration of Independence was adopted by the Continental Congress. Then out rang the loud peal of the bell—the Liberty Bell, as it has ever since been called. How the people in the streets shouted. Cheer on cheer arose, until the ringing was drowned by the cheer of the people. "Freedom, Freedom" they shouted. Freedom has another victory. And let us pray long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light, protect us by thy might, great God our King.

WHISKERS, Beards, Moustaches, and side-bars are common sites on the streets of Canyon with new types cropping up daily. Nick Dodson, pictured, is a member of the Canyon Jaycees who are sponsoring the beard contest in conjunction with the anniversary celebration of Randall County.

Recent guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Wooten have been her mother, Mrs. David Hunt, of Rule, Texas and Mrs. Wooten's brothers and sister.

They were Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt and son of Hudson, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. David Hunt, Jr. and sons from Hobbs, New Mexico, and Mrs. Stanley Wright and children from Austin.

scout staff members. George Hughes will work with the service troop, and Randy Warren will work with the trading post.

The first night will be spent at Springfield, Missouri.

The boys will sightsee during the day and visit points of interest in the Springfield area.

Other planned stops will be Indianapolis, Indiana; Dearborn, Michigan; tours of the Ford Museum; Greenfield Village; Niagara Falls, New York City; a day at the World's Fair and a tour of the Hershey Plant in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

Arrival at the Jamboree campsite is scheduled for July 15, with official camp activities beginning July 17.

"We will be allotted a 90 x 90 foot area to erect 21 tents with 4 dining shelters and an assembly room for each troop of 40 scouts," Moreland said.

"Everyone must wear complete scout uniforms for the duration of the Jamboree," he continued.

"The boys will have an opportunity to learn how scouting works, and will bring back new ideas for their local troops benefit."

"We'll be taking a lot of hikes over the campgrounds which is located near the Schuykill River, to see the various divisions and get acquainted with other scout troops," Moreland explained.

The sixth National Jamboree is expected to draw a total of 50,000 scouts to the main campsite during the week of craft events, conservation practices and campfire cooking.

"Our boys are planning to enter the bucking bronc division of the 'skill-o-rama' ", he said.

After breakfast July 24, the Jamboree camp will be dismissed and Canyon's delegation is expected to arrive home July 29.

Enroute home the group will make stops in Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Virginia; Bristol, Virginia; Jackson, Tennessee; and Fort Chaffee, Arkansas.

Plans also include an evening at an outdoor production of a Paul Green play in Virginia.

Green is author for the historical pageant of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation spectacular, which is expected to be presented in the summer of 1965.

Natalia Acosta, pictured on the left, and Rena Gayle Hillier were recent winners of the Independence Day Contest sponsored by The Canyon News. Natalia won the first place prize of $10 and Rena Gayle won second place and $5.
